In government layoffs lie seeds of opportunity

Public cuts.

Entrepreneur looks to help laid-off workers create startups

GRAHAM LANKTREE
ottawa@metronews.ca

Ahead of expected deep public-service cuts next week, entrepreneur Ian Graham aims to help workers start their own small business.

"If you're laid off in Ottawa right now, there's pretty much nothing available for you," said Graham. "The tech sector is hiring, but I think it will be hard for people from the civil service's skills sets to match up with their needs."

To help workers decide what to do next, Graham plans to launch a website called governmenttostartup.com to promote information sessions on becoming an entrepreneur, creating startup goals and connecting with life coaches.

After quitting his Alcatel job in 2004, Graham started The Code Factory, a downtown office space where startup owners can rent a desk monthly.

The space also acts as a creative hub where like-minded individuals can meet and share ideas.

"Drawing from my own experiences, I want to let them know how to get started," he said. "The mental change from making the switch from being an employee to an entrepreneur can be tough."

City meeting snubs public on taxi-regulation changes

The go-ahead. New taxi bylaws still needs full-council approval

jessica.smith@metronews.ca

A city committee OK'd major taxi-industry-friendly bylaw changes Thursday and voted against asking for public feedback.

The community and protective services committee voted to let accessible taxi licences be sold — a move that will make the licences worth $330,000 to $350,000, city staff and industry reps said. The committee agreed to stop issuing new taxi licences until the city's "plate/population" formula warrants it.

"The taxi industry and the city have worked together on some of the proposed changes you have seen today," said committee chair Mark Taylor, who accepted a $750 donation from the union that represents taxi drivers after he was named chair of the community and protective services committee.

Taylor was one of six on the seven-member committee to vote down Coun. Diane Holmes' motion to delay the decision for public consultation. "It's a very complex industry and the public don't tend to engage in the public-consultation process," said Taylor.

The city's accessibility committee chair Penny LeClair said her committee wants more accessible-taxi licences issued. "There should have been more public consultation," she said.

On Wednesday her committee complained accessible taxis are slow to arrive and non-accessible cabs are mistakenly sent.

Taylor said Thursday complaints should go to the city's 311 phone line.

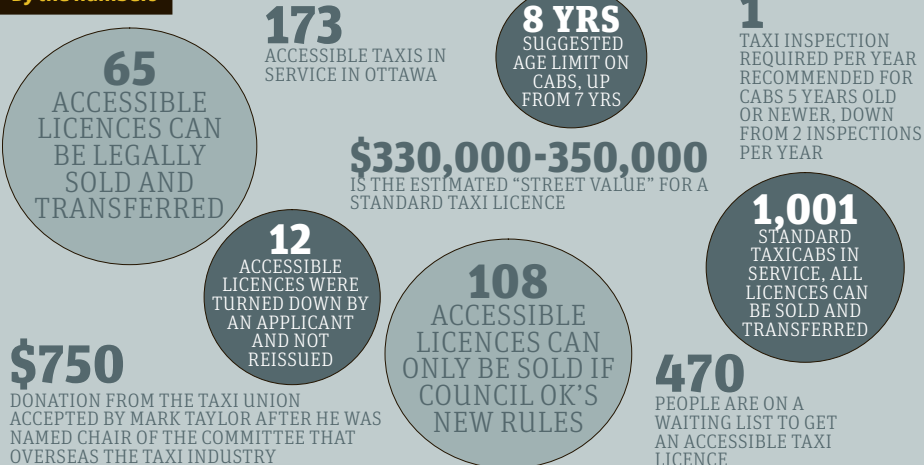

Chief license inspector Susan Jones said the decision not to issue more taxi licences is based in part on a lack of 311 complaints but mostly on information from taxi firms — including their data on accessible taxis arrival times and complaints.

Asked why the committee voted against a consultation process that would have allowed taxi riders to voice their complaints, Taylor said that anyone whose cab doesn't arrive in a timely fashion would ask for more cabs on the streets.

Community and protective services chair Mark Taylor and chief license inspector Susan Jones speak at a press conference about taxi regulations at city hall on Thursday. JESSICA SMITH/METRO

By the numbers

Taxi bylaw changes in brief

- Transferable. Make the 108 non-transferable licences transferable so they can be legally sold.
- Inspections. Taxis less than six years old get inspections once, not twice a year.
- Plates. Stop issuing taxi plates until the population grows.
- Accessible. Only accessible plates would be issued in the future.
- Training. Stop making licensed cabbies attend refresher courses and customer service training, except when chief license inspector deems it appropriate.

Worker at construction site electrocuted

A man was electrocuted Thursday at a construction site on Moody Drive. Paramedics found a man in his 30s without vitals, but were able to restart his heart and rush him to hospital in critical condition. He may have been injured because a truck's raised boom may have touched a power line, paramedics said.

The Ontario Ministry of Labour is investigating.

JOE LOFARO

Local Ottawa blues band MonkeyJunk put on a surprise live performance in the ByWard Market Thursday to hype Juno Awards-related activities happening next week.

Band members Steve Marriner, Matt Sobb, and Tony D are up for a Juno this year for best blues album for To Behold.

A festive summer atmosphere permeated the band's sidewalk performance at the intersection of George Street and ByWard Market Square.

A curious crowd flocked to see what was going on.

"It was beautiful. It's nice to be in the heart of downtown and have people walk around and check us out," said Marriner, the band's vocalist and guitarist.

"(There was) probably a bunch of people today who've never heard of us so it's always good to expose yourself to people."

Blues fans who missed MonkeyJunk's performance can catch them again before the Juno Awards broadcast on April 1 when they perform for JunoFest on March 30 at Irene's Pub at 885 Bank St.

"It's going to be a very exciting weekend," Marriner said.

He wouldn't get into the details, but Marriner said the band has a surprise for fans on broadcast day.

"It's probably the most exciting thing I've ever been a part of in my career," he said.

Nation's capital of cheating hearts

AshleyMadison.com.
Ottawa tops list of Canadian cities with unfaithful spouses

ottawa@metronews.ca

Government workers cheating on their spouses have philandered Ottawa to the top of AshleyMadison.com's list of Canada's top 10 cities with the most cheaters, the website's founder and CEO Noel Biderman, said Thursday.

The Canadian-based website, which works as a dating site for people in a "committed" relationship, gave second- and third-place spots to Saskatoon and Calgary, with Vancouver placing last.

"It's no great honour for Ottawa to be part of this list," said Andrea Mrozek, manager of research and communications at the Institute of Marriage and Family Canada. "For them to capitalize off the emotional pain and anguish caused by their 'work' is despicable."

Jocelyn Wentland, a sex researcher and University of Ottawa PhD student, said the thing that struck her is that Washington, D.C., tops the website's U.S. list.

But Wentland says the similar rankings of capitals may not have anything to do with cheating at all.

"If I was a high-ranking politician, I wouldn't want to risk going on a regular dating service," she said.

"Ottawa is not known for its liberal attitude when it comes to sex, so maybe it's easier for people to go on a site like that when everyone agrees it's a secret."

Although Canada's divorce rate has declined, dropping from a high of 362.3 per 100,000 people in 1987 to 220.7 in 2005, the reasons behind it vary, said Mrozek.

"The declining divorce rate is because less people are getting married," she said. "More and more young people are living together, but these relationships are not as stable."

Still, cheating is nothing new, said Wentland, "yet the methods of how these people are connecting is. The site seems to be fulfilling a need and if people didn't want it, it wouldn't exist."

Liquor-control board

Wanna serve booze?
Ban live rap, hip-hop,
Quebec bar told

The new operators of a suburban Montreal bar promise to showcase the big hair of 1980s tribute bands, stacks of jumbo chicken wings and, perhaps, even a mechanical bull.

But to ensure the watering hole could add the critical component of booze to that list they had to promise to do away with one thing: Live hip-hop and rap performances.

Quebec's liquor-control board told the incoming managers of Le Pionnier, or The Pioneer, to outlaw the two music genres if they wanted any hope of acquiring a licence to serve booze.

An anti-racism group and Facebook protest page say the move smacks of discrimination against black people. But the venue's co-owner, who took over the bar last fall, said she had no choice but to agree because the joint needs to serve suds to survive.

"My first reaction was (that) it's very discriminatory," said Diane Marois, who co-owns the bar with her husband, Ron Bracken.

"I don't think it's right in the first place, but ... I'd rather be up and running with a limited venue as opposed to being closed."

A spokeswoman for the liquor board said it's "normal" in Quebec for permit applications to include conditions that forbid specific types of musical acts, like hip hop or rap.

In the case of Le Pionnier, Joyce Tremblay said local police asked the regulator to include a clause that called for a ban of live hip-hop and rap performances.

Montreal police were not immediately available to respond to an interview request to discuss the matter.

Students march to protest tuition hike

Montreal. Rally comes after blunt refusal by Premier Jean Charest to back down

A monster crowd, considerably larger than the one at Montreal's famous 1995 pre-referendum rally, formed a kilometres-long sea of opposition to tuition hikes Thursday.

The protest began in the same downtown square that hosted the pro-Canada love fest just days before the sovereignty referendum.

This one filled the square — and then some.

In a spring laden with demonstrations against the Quebec government, this was easily the largest. The parade of protest was so long that its front end would be a full neighbourhood — or even two — away from the tail end. An organizing group boasted that the protest spanned 50 city blocks.

There were no immediate incidents involving the chanting, placard-waving throng. There were, however, reports of some protesters carrying sticks.

And there was a threat from a major protest group: "If the government doesn't announce a retreat on the (tuition) hike today the next step will involve actions that disrupt the economy," the C.L.A.S.S.E. group posted on its Twitter page.

The province is nearly doubling tuition fees over five years, to about $3,800. It will reach its target with a series of $325-a-year increases. However, the tuition fees in the province will still be among the lowest in Canada even after the hikes.

University tuition in Quebec has been mostly frozen for the last 40 years, and previous governments have either avoided touching the subject or retreated.

Students have been staging almost daily protests for the last several weeks and blocked a major commuter bridge on Tuesday. Police have also ramped up tactics and have used chemical sprays against the demonstrators.

The government has toughened its own tone lately.

The protest that shut down Montreal's Champlain Bridge prompted Charest's Liberals to cast that demonstration as an affront against hard-working taxpayers.

THE CANADIAN PRESS

Students vs. taxpayers

- The populist message pitting students against taxpayers was repeated Thursday by the government, which is nearing the end of its mandate and is deeply unpopular.
- "We also need to listen to the silent majority — those who can't be in the streets because they're too busy working," Education Minister Line Beauchamp said of the protests.

Tens of thousands of students protest on Thursday nobody ignores us," shouted demonstrators, who

A nip and a tuck sans the buck in Brazil

Free to be (a better) me. Enhancing one's appearance seen as beneficial to mental health in Brazil

Free Botox and laser hair removal, free chemical peels and anti-cellulite treatments may at first seem shockingly frivolous in a country like Brazil — which, despite phenomenal economic growth in recent years that has lifted millions out of extreme poverty, still battles with diseases like tuberculosis and dengue.

But the philosophy behind the more than 220 clinics across Brazil that treat thousands of maids, receptionists, waitresses and others is simple: Beauty is a right, and the poor deserve to be ravishing, too.

The Brazilian Society of Aesthetic Medicine's Rio clinic has performed free procedures on more than 14,000 patients since its founding in 1997, said Dr. Nelson Rosas, who heads the Rio branch.

Good looks, doctors argue, are more than skin deep, and by treating what patients view as physical flaws doctors are often also healing their psyches.

Nicknamed the "philosopher of plastic surgery" for his intellectual and psychoanalytical take on the vocation, 85-year-old Pitanguy is largely responsible for Brazil's reputation as a world leader in the field and a top destination for cosmetic surgery tourism.

His skill with the scalpel catapulted him to international fame — the surgeon is arguably Brazil's second most famous person after soccer legend Pele. It's made him the go-to man for A-list celebrities, international statesmen and royalty seeking a quick fix to their esthetic woes. Pitanguy's long and illustrious patient roster is said to include such luminaries as Zsa Zsa Gabor, Francois Mitterrand and Brigitte Bardot, although the discreet doctor has rarely named names. Only Cleansing Can Make You Feel This Good

If there was only one thing you could do to improve your health and increase energy it would be a total body cleanse. Everyday your body is under attack from pollution, pesticides, chemicals and toxins. They are in the food we eat, the water we drink, and the air we breathe. No matter your lifestyle, no one is escaping this constant barrage of toxins.

First Cleanse

First Time Cleanse

TESTIMONIAL - Enjoyable Experience
"This was my 'first cleanse', and I can truly say it has been an enjoyable experience. I followed the directions, and made changes in my diet. The first few days, I began to notice some changes in my energy levels and 'waste elimination'. I also could tell the products were working, as my skin had mild breakouts. Towards the end of the program, the breakouts had cleared up, I was more regular in waste elimination, and I lost 7 pounds." - 2011-10-04

WHY YOU SHOULD CLEANSE

CleanseSMART Advanced Total Body Cleanse

TESTIMONIAL - Thank you so much! "My fiancée and I had always thought that we were relatively healthy at 47 years of age and had fairly decent eating habits in that we were conscious of what we put into our bodies - fresh fruit and veggies, as little processed meats, white flour, sugar, salt, etc. but over the last 6 months or so we were beginning to feel sluggish and that our age was finally catching up to us - very rapidly. We searched the internet and narrowed our search to CleanseSMART's 30 day cleanse. We are very happy to report that after only five days both of us felt an amazing change in our bodies - lighter, healthier and more energized! Thank you so very much for your expertise in formulating this cleanse." - 2008-01-16

Autopsy findings

Cause of Houston's death revealed

Whitney Houston died from drowning in a hotel bathtub, but coroner of- ficials said Thursday that heart disease and chronic cocaine use were contribut- ing factors to the singer's death.

The release of autopsy findings Thursday ends weeks of speculation about what killed the Grammy- winning singer on Feb. 11 on the eve of the Grammy Awards. THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Stranded teens survive ordeal

Five teenagers have survived two cold, snowy nights on a remote log- ging road on Vancouver Island after their truck ran out of gas, leaving them with no cellphone service and without any emergency supplies.

RCMP say two women and three men, aged 17 to 19, set off Monday in a four-wheel-drive truck down a road that was covered in deep snow, but ran out of fuel near Lake Cowichan.

McClintic denies being 'engine' behind murder

Warning. Graphic details from this court case may disturb some readers

The woman convicted of killing Victoria Stafford flatly denied a suggestion Thursday that she was the "engine" behind a plot that went deeper than she has let on when she says she didn't think she was walking the eight-year-old girl to her death.

"I take full responsibility for my actions," Terri-Lynne McClintic told court. "I did what I did. But I'm not the only guilty party here, and that's why I'm sitting here today."

The 21-year-old is already serving a life sentence after pleading guilty to first-degree murder, but is now testifying at the trial of her ex-boyfriend. Michael Rafferty, 31, has pleaded not guilty to first-degree murder, sexual assault causing bodily harm and kidnab- ping.

Terri-Lynne McClintic is transported from court in London on March 16.
DAVE CHIDLEY/THE CANADIAN PRESS

The jury has now seen how McClintic's story about the events of April 8, 2009, the day Tori disappeared, has morphed from an all- out denial, to saying she was there but didn't see how Tori died, to saying Rafferty raped Tori and then killed her using a hammer, to now saying it was she who in- flicted the fatal blows.

The latest version of events first came up at a counselling session just days before the start of Rafferty's pre-trial in January, court heard. THE CANADIAN PRESS

McClintic's writing

Journal entries 'disturbing': Lawyer

Michael Rafferty's lawyer Dirk Derstine cross- examined McClintic about journal writings filled with what he called "deeply disturbing, hor- rifically violent imagery." McClintic wrote about wanting to grab a random person, muti- late them, smash their skull and inflict various manners of torture upon them. At the time she wrote them, she said, a year or two before Tori's murder, she used her writing as an outlet to vent her rage.

"You confessed under oath to beating a child to death with a hammer," Derstine said. "That's a little bit more than anger issues, wouldn't you agree?"

McClintic said she's not proud of who she was then, but she under- went a transformation in July 2008 when she got in touch with her emo- tions. THE CANADIAN PRESS

Want to control your gambling? OLG is working with counsellors to provide the help you may need.

OLG offers a voluntary Self-Exclusion program and works with debt and treatment counsellors across Ontario to ensure our players have access to free and confidential support services.

If you find yourself gambling too often or if it no longer feels like a game, OLG's voluntary Self-Exclusion program can be an important first step. By entering the program, you commit to stay away from all OLG slots and casino facilities in Ontario. To complement the program, we work with independent problem gambling and debt management experts to ensure you have access to the right support and tools to get the help you need. When you enroll in the voluntary Self-Exclusion program, you are offered the option to have an independent counsellor present. In fact, you can even sign up for the program at a participating problem gambling or debt counsellor's office. That way, you're guaranteed immediate, confidential support from trained professionals.

For more information about OLG's voluntary Self-Exclusion program, visit KnowYourLimit.ca.

French standoff ends with murder suspect shot dead

Shock. Suspect in the slaying of three paratroopers, three Jewish schoolchildren and a rabbi boasts to police about crimes

In a dramatic end to a 32-hour standoff, a masked French SWAT team slipped into the apartment of an Islamist extremist Thursday, sparking a firefight that ended with the suspect jumping out the window and being shot dead in the head.

Mohamed Merah, 23, was wanted in the deaths of three French paratroopers, three Jewish schoolchildren and a rabbi — all killed since March 11 in what Merah reportedly told police was an attempt to “bring France to its knees.”

to capture him alive since a predawn raid Wednesday to arrest him at his apartment in the southwestern city of Toulouse. The killings he was accused of — and boasted about to police — have shocked France, ignited fear in moderate Muslims about stoking discrimination and may even affect the country's upcoming presidential election.

The seven slayings, carried out in three motorcycle shooting attacks, are believed to be the first killings inspired by Islamic radical motives in France since the Sept. 11, 2001, attacks.

French President Nicolas Sarkozy, speaking in Paris, said an investigation was under way to see if Merah, a French citizen of Algerian descent who claimed links to al-Qaida, had any accomplices.

His mother and a brother were detained Wednesday by police after the mother's computer became a critical link in tracking Merah down. The brother Abdelkader had already been linked to Iraqi Islamist networks.

Megaupload host: Pay expenses or lose data

The company hosting the frozen data of millions of users of the file sharing site Megaupload says somebody needs to pay the company's bill or allow it to delete the data.

Carpathia Hosting filed an emergency motion this week in U.S. federal court in Virginia seeking protection from the expense of hosting the data of up to 66 million users. It says it is using more than 1,100 servers to store the 25 million gigabytes of data.

In the motion filed Tuesday, the Virginia-based company said it is paying $9,000 a day to host the data, which works out to more than $500,000 since January. That is when U.S. authorities shut down the Megaupload site and worked with authorities in New Zealand to have its founder, Kim Dotcom, arrested. THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Pipeline. Obama defends handling of Keystone

U.S. President Barack Obama firmly defended his record on oil drilling Thursday, ordering the government to fast-track an Oklahoma pipeline while accusing Congress of playing politics with a larger Canada-to-Gulf Coast project.

Obama said lawmakers refused to give his administration enough time to review TransCanada's controversial 2,700-kilometre Keystone XL pipeline to ensure that it wouldn't compromise the health and safety of people living in surrounding areas.

GEEKS LINE UP TO GET NEW IPAD

THE LIST
Mike Benhaim
Metro

1 Body of work: Charlie Sheen's porn-star ex-girlfriend Bree Olson produced a video designed to hasten the capture of fugitive Ugandan rebel leader Joseph Kony. The clip shows a bikini-clad Olson wiggling in the sand, while flashing harsh images of the conflict. Because nothing screams "justice" quite like a healthy dose of cleavage. Where was she when we were trying to free Nelson Mandela?

2 Punk'd in Space: Sir Richard Branson has declared that his Virgin Galactic spaceships "are built and flying in the final stages of our exhaustive test-flight program." Tickets to outer space will cost about $200,000 US. Ashton Kutcher has already signed on for the Virgin voyage, and will attempt to stash his assets far from Demi Moore.

3 Take a byte: Thousands of consumers lined up outside of Apple's flagship stores in NYC last week to buy the newest iPad. Investment firm UBS conducted a survey to find out why customers hadn't attempted to order online. A handful of people stated, "What else would we do on a Friday night? We're nerds."

4 Poetic Demeanor: Congrats to Kris Demeanor on becoming Calgary's first poet laureate. He hopes to find creative ways to get Calgarians into the enjoyment of language. Engaging Canadian youth might be a challenge, but perhaps he can create rhymes in SMS. "R U well? Luv ur smell. Lol." Good luck, Kris!

5 Sign of the times: So jaded are sports fans in Toronto that when a player like Phil Kessel actually reaches peak performance, all we can say is "Quick, trade him!" The rationale, of course, is that it's got to be downhill from here. I liken this to my wife serving me leftovers from a delicious home-cooked meal, and saying, "Eat fast. It's just about to rot."

6 Retro in HD: This Sunday marks the long-awaited two-hour premiere of Mad Men's fifth season. The show is popular among those nostalgic for a time when men had body hair and women had real breasts. Also recommended for anyone feeling guilty about their parenting skills, or how much they drink and smoke.

7 Ready to Rumba: Dancing with the Stars premiered this week with an odd crew of has-beens, might-bes and barely-ares. Nevertheless, after watching 15 intermittent minutes, I am prepared to make predictions. A "Pip-less" Gladys Knight will lose early, but thank the lord for the journey. Urkel will do the robot at least once and Martina Navratilova will struggle not to lead. Finalists: Welsh soprano Katherine Jenkins, Latino stud William Levy and Prairie star Melissa Gilbert.

8 Beach-body: Every spring we discover our "winter fat" and torture ourselves with diets. Now, there is a great new book called Unjunk Your Junk Food for people (like me) who refuse to forgo the sweets for more than a couple of days. Instead of contradicting Marie Antoinette, Andrea Donsky and friends will simply tell you which cake to choose. A free sneak peek is available for download at naturallysavvy.com. Harnessing the sun

Obama takes a shine to solar energy

BOULDER CITY, NEV. Amid soaring fuel prices, Obama finds solace in solar.

U.S. President Barack Obama speaks at Copper Mountain Solar 1 facility, the largest photovoltaic solar plant in the United States. Obama is on a four-state trip to promote renewable fuels and increasing domestic oil and gas production.

MWN

Bright facts

- Most untapped renewable resource. More energy hits Earth from the sun in one hour than the whole planet uses all year; 120,000 terrawatts of solar energy hits Earth daily. Over one year, Earth uses 15 terrawatts of energy.
- Poor-efficiency conversion. Solar panels now have efficiency conversion rate of 15 per cent; water turbines up to 90 per cent.

He says:

"I don't want to break one of these. They look expensive."

Obama said jokingly as he walked past a solar panel.

A lot of power

solar panels are at the Copper Mountain plant, which at peak performance are capable of producing 58 megawatts of clean electricity, enough to power more than 17,000 average homes.

Jennifer Lawrence has found the role she'll likely forever be associated with in The Hunger Games. HANDOUT

Film will satisfy hungry fans

Reel Guys

RICHARD CROUSE AND MARK BRESLIN

The Hunger Games. Jennifer Lawrence brings an emotional richness to the book's main character, Katniss Everdeen

Richard: Mark, from its opening moments, The Hunger Games feels more intimate than your average blockbuster thanks to some inventive hand held camera work. And that's a good thing. As fans of the books know, the focus of the story is the characters. Sure, they are thrown into a wild situation, but admiring Katniss Everdeen's inner strength and courage or Peeta Mellark's big heart is as important to the success of the story as are the action scenes or the dystopian premise. What did you think?

Mark: Yes, but I never quite saw

Katniss and Peeta as a couple, perhaps because she seems so much more savvy than him, or perhaps because he has the name of a Lebanese flatbread. But Jennifer Lawrence is strong enough to carry this movie on her own, anyway; she's that good. As far as the rest of the film goes, I loved the first 40 minutes — everything that leads up to the actual games — but found the rest of it a bigger budget version of Survivor on steroids.

RC: Lawrence has found the role that she will, likely, forever be associated with and brings substance to it. She gives Katniss a rich inner life — you can see the machinations of the character churning behind her eyes. Without her level of performance this would be a far less interesting movie. Having said that, I enjoyed the movie's steampunk world; that mix of old and new to create something familiar, yet strange.

MB: I thought the art direction and costuming of the capitol really created a vivid portrayal of a decadent, fey society. Although I have to say that Elizabeth Banks' over the top Marie Antoinette impression was grating and out of whack with even the most satirical elements of the movie. And the satire worked for me — it isn't really that far from current reality shows. Although there were derivative elements in the story, using teenagers as contestants amps up the cruelty factor.

RC: I enjoyed Banks. I thought she brought some much-needed levity to a grim story about kids killing one another. But as much as I enjoyed the movie — and I really did — I couldn't help but wonder what a truly visionary director like Terry Gilliam might have done with this material.

MB: Yes, I did think Gary Ross, director of sweet fare like Pleasantville and writer

Synopsis

- The Hunger Games is set in Panem, a dystopian world ruled by a fascistic leader (Donald Sutherland). Each year the state holds The Hunger Games, a battle to death between 24 players, two from each of the country's districts. The televised games are equal parts Miss Universe, American Idol and Death Race. The story follows two "tributes" from District 12: Katniss Everdeen (Jennifer Lawrence) and Peeta Mellark (Josh Hutcherson), two reluctant warriors whose survival is at stake.

Alabama honours Octavia

Oscar-winning actress Octavia Spencer is being honoured at the Alabama Statehouse, where about 400 people turned out to welcome her. Spencer won this year's best supporting actress Oscar for her performance as a maid in The Help. She rode up to the Statehouse in a pink limousine for the Wednesday ceremony. As she stepped out, she was serenaded by the band from her alma mater, Jefferson Davis High School. A Montgomery native, Spencer told the crowd that she would do whatever she could to see that more movies are made in Alabama. She also cautioned young people in the audience to think twice before heading to Hollywood to become a movie star.

Will Lily Collins (daughter of Phil) live up to being the fairest of them all?

Mirror Mirror. Young actress talks about her new role, and giving the beloved Snow White story some modern twists

NED EHRBAR
Metro World News in Hollywood

Lily Collins faces quite the tall order with director Tarsem Singh's Mirror, Mirror — namely, putting a non-animated face and an updated spin on perhaps the most classic of fairy tales, Snow White and the Seven Dwarves. But it's a challenge she's been happy to tackle. Even with a competing Snow White film grabbing for headlines and a presidential election looming — Collins (a.k.a. singer Phil's daughter) covered the 2008 race for Nickelodeon — she is working hard to keep her focus where she wants it.

Did you ever think, in playing a fairy tale princess, that you'd get to do an action movie training montage?

No! I mean, it was written in the script that she meets the dwarves and there would be sword fighting, but the script changed so much during filming that this montage, when it was added, I thought, "This is going to be so much fun to shoot." It took a long time to shoot, but when it's all cut together with the music, it's just so fun. And I never thought that I'd be sword-fighting and fencing and learning all these cool stunts. You sign on to do a princess; you don't think she's going to be fighting in it.

It is an interesting update. Fairy tales traditionally aren't great for the their female characters — lots of sitting around and pining, waiting to be rescued.

And that's what we did not want. We didn't want to take the animation and just make it live-action. We wanted to take it and have a reason to redo it. In today's day and age, girls are very empowered to do the same things that guys do. And young girls want to see movies that show people that they admire are not needing the prince as much as they used to — or the fact that a princess can save a prince just as much as a prince can save a princess.

How was it playing opposite Armie Hammer with these new takes on Snow White and Prince Charming?

It was fun because we both agreed from the get-go it's a very Katherine Hepburn and Spencer Tracy back-and-forth — not just the physicality of the sword-fighting but the physicality of the language because it is so back and forth, and we're both trying to one-up each other in conversations. It was very playful.

There's that other Snow White movie coming out in June. How much were you aware of the competing project?

I think it was known before we even started that there were these two projects. Aesthetically and with the storyline, they're so different. And the advertising has shown that so far. I think more of the struggle was just this whole, like, who's coming out first kind of a thing and making sure there's enough time in between so that everyone's not overloaded with the fairy tale. But that never really trickled down to us on set, I think.

Documentary

Into the Abyss

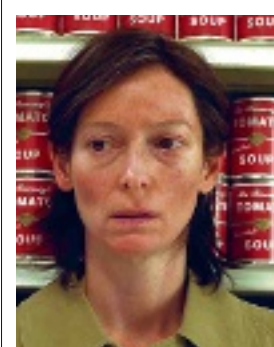

Director. Werner Herzog

Stars. Jason Burkett, Werner Herzog, Michael Perry

The notably idiosyncratic German director Werner Herzog has made a relatively straightforward documentary about the fallout of a triple homicide in Houston, Texas. If Herzog still uses this real-life tragedy as a way to access his usual themes about the elasticity of truth and the eccentricity of human behaviour, he admirably keeps his usual rhetorical and visual flourishes in check. This is a rigorous, perceptive film.

We Need to Talk About Kevin

Director. Lynne Ramsay

Stars. Tilda Swinton, John C. Reilly, Ezra Miller

Kevin (Miller) has had severe emotional problems all his life. He's cruel, manipulative, rebellious, apparently consumed with hatred targeted at his sister and mother Eva (Swinton). But her husband (Reilly) loves the boy and can't accept her reports of him doing awful things. One day, she's proven right when he commits an unthinkable crime. Swinton is transcendent, as always, but Miller is amazing.

Putting The Hunger Games' Panem on the map

CREATED BY AIMMYARROWSHIGH.LIVEJOURNAL.COM AND BADGUYS.LIVEJOURNAL.COM

Fan-made

Mapping Panem

The world of Panem has captivated The Hunger Games fans. Now, thanks to a dedicated writer-turned-cartographer, readers can visualize the region. The map was created by a previously published fiction writer who goes by the pen name V. Arrow.

METRO WORLD NEWS

Time it took

4 1/2

The whole project took V. Arrow and her friend about four and a half days combined to research and six to seven hours to draw out. But, she's been tinkering with details over the last six months to make it more scientifically accurate.

Quoted

"I was interested in how different the story was from the (typical) unification of a country."

V. Arrow on her motivation for building the map of Panem.

Investigation

How she placed the districts

Arrow took clues from the book — North America was said to be destroyed by cataclysmic event; District 12 is said to have once been the Appalachians. She used a phi spiral — a logarithmic shape that gets wider by every quarter turn — to place the evil Capitol in the centre. The rest was just guesswork.

Experience pays off

This isn't her first world map

Arrow also completed one detailing the world of Matched by Ally Condie. But the Panem map will always hold a special place. She was especially proud that the A.V. Club wrote about her efforts, even though they did mention she might be a bit crazy. "I consider it a nerd badge of honour to be called a 'fruit loop'" she says. Her obsession doesn't end there. In The Panem Companion, Arrow details the sociological and psychological implications of Panem.

Next up...

Clock map not a big enough challenge

V. Arrow considered doing a map of the clock arena from Catching Fire, but thought it wouldn't be a big challenge.

Oprah Winfrey GEORGE BURNS/OWN

Can Oprah be a team player?

TV Network.
OWN shakeup has brought on some big changes

Oprah Winfrey is used to running the show, whether it was her hit daytime TV program or the fledgling cable channel named for her and which she rules as chairman and chief executive.

But this week's Oprah Winfrey Network shakeup, which included a 20 per cent staff layoff, thrusts her into a new dynamic: power-sharing with a top executive from the company that's bankrolled OWN with $300 million-plus.

It's a crucial moment for the media queen, who made OWN her next big move after The Oprah Winfrey Show, and for OWN itself: Can Winfrey work as an effective corporate teammate with partner Discovery Communications to turn the struggling channel around?

There's another bedrock question: Does a big enough audience exist for the earnest, uplifting fare on Winfrey's OWN, so antithetical to the blowzy charms of Jersey Shore, Keeping Up With the Kardashians and much else that's popular on cable TV?

In Canada, the OWN brand is licensed and operated by media company Corus Entertainment Inc. and mirrors much of the U.S. cable channel's programming schedule.

As important as control might be to Winfrey, she's also a savvy businesswoman and has been willing to take advice before — and not just from Dr. Oz, Dr. Phil or her other TV health and wealth protégés. Her syndicated talk show's distributor made sure she stayed on track.

"In the past, when she was becoming too 'New Age,' or becoming too distant, which can come with celebrity and wealth, the folks at King World would do a survey," and pass

By the numbers

318,000

For the year to date, OWN is averaging 318,000 total viewers in prime-time in the United States, a nine per cent increase over the same period last year.

the results to her, said Bill Carroll, an expert in the syndication market for media consulting firm Katz Media.

As a smart broadcaster, Winfrey heard the public "and adjusted to what they were saying," Carroll said.

Winfrey started off slowly with OWN, busy wrapping her talk show's 25-year run last fall with much hoopla. She began exerting more control after leaving daytime, and as part of the executive turnover that began five months after OWN's January 2011 debut to disappointing ratings.

Christina Norman, who was dismissed as CEO in May 2011, had expressed hope that, within its first year, OWN would reach an average of about 400,000 viewers in prime-time among women ages 25 to 54. That would have been a doubling of the prime-time audience in that demo for Discovery Health, the channel OWN replaced.

It was philosophy, not numbers, that Winfrey focused on at the channel's launch. She was insistent that OWN would represent her talk show's message of self-empowerment writ large across an entire channel.

"What if I could take every hero who inspired me, every lesson that motivated me, every opportunity that was ever given to me and give it to you," Winfrey said in a promotional spot for OWN that showed her beaming against a computer-generated blue sky dotted by soaring balloons and puffy clouds.

For a successful woman, one who thinks and lives big, Winfrey has entered new territory.

Janie Bryant's latest collection for Banana Republic —inspired by Mad Men Season 5. HANDOUT

'It's about an era of lounging poolside'

Janie Bryant. The Mad Men costume designer talks Season 5 and her latest Banana Republic collection

KENYA HUNT
scene@metronews.ca

The new season of Mad Men has been shrouded in CIA-like secrecy. As the premiere date draws closer, we try our best to extract a few clues about what to expect from costume designer Janie Bryant.

Now that we're just days away from the season premiere and the cast photos have been released, what can you reveal about the look of the characters? How has their wardrobe evolved since last season?

Honestly, I'm sworn to secrecy until the premiere on March 25. You'll have to wait and see!

Men collection for Banana Republic reflect the look of Season 5?

Our second collection was inspired by the characters while at the club because of the fun contrast to the home and office settings. It's about an era of lounging poolside or attending a 4th of July barbecue in a crisp blue polo shirt and stunning the crowd in a lush ivory dress.

When creating the collection, were you obligated to design it in such a way that wouldn't give away too many details about the actual show?

For this collection, [Banana Republic creative director Simon Kneen] and I talked a lot about the characters and scenes that inspired us, the roles they were playing, the emotions they're going through, and worked to translate all that context into beautiful design. We stayed with the traditional Mad Men look that viewers have come to love.

to feel both vintage and very 2012.

It was about taking a vintage look and updating it with a modern twist. We took some of our favourite trending colours and prints, like the bright pinks and large florals in some of the women's pieces, and fit them on a '60s silhouette, like a capri pant or nip-waist dress.

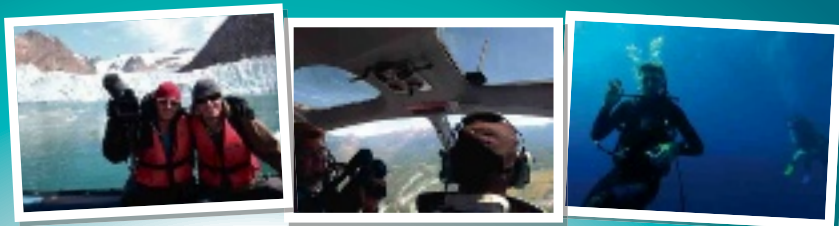

The first four seasons of Mad Men helped spark a global obsession with the mid-century way of dressing, influencing an entire season of ready-to-wear collections. Do you think Season 5 will do the same thing for late '60s dressing?

People identify with the costume design of the characters and there has already been a clear resurgence of 1960s trends on runways this spring. Beautiful, dressed-up tailoring with emphasis on the waist; bright colours for ladies; and tailored, slim-cut apparel for men are all making a comeback. But as far as Season 5 goes I really can't comment!

OK, how does the new Mad

Call it a comeback

Pop music. One Direction, Big Time Rush, The Wanted; more boy bands hit music scene

It seems like we can never say goodbye, bye, bye to boy bands.

A decade after 'N Sync and the Backstreet Boys dominated the entertainment world, boy bands are making a comeback.

One Direction, the British quintet that placed third on the U.K.'s X Factor in 2010, will see its album Up All Night debut high on Billboard's Top 200 albums chart this week. The Wanted, another U.K.-based quintet, is spending its second week at No. 4 on Billboard's Hot 100 singles chart with the jam Glad You Came.

Big Time Rush, a four-member boy band that also has a hit Nickelodeon show readying its third season, recently wrapped a sold-out tour at New York's Radio City Music Hall, and will embark on a larger U.S. and Canadian trek this summer. And Mindless Behavior, formed by the man who discovered Lady Gaga — record executive Vincent Herbert — debuted at No. 2 on the R&B charts in late 2010 with its album (hash)1 Girl, and has toured with Janet Jackson and Justin Bieber, among others.

"It's just exploding," said Ernie D., the creative director and on-air personality for Radio Disney.

"It's really amazing to see, especially on my end, hearing all the calls from the listeners.

... So that fever is definitely growing for sure."

It's reminiscent of a time when 'N Sync battled the Backstreet Boys as music's top act, selling millions of albums and concert tickets, thanks to the millions of girls who invested time, their parents' money and screamed pleas for their favourite boy band.

'N Sync and the Backstreet Boys, who rose to fame in the 1990s and carried that through the new millennium, were followed by other successful boy bands, such as 98 Degrees, O-Town and Dream Street.

Before that, it was New Edition who exploded on the scene in the 1980s, followed by the massive success of New Kids on the Block. And before that, there was the Jackson Five and the Osmonds, and so on.

The Jonas Brothers made it big in the mid-2000s with their hit Disney TV series, films and albums. They started to fade years later, though, as the oldest, Kevin, got married, and Joe and Nick launched solo careers.

But now, there are various boy bands releasing music simultaneously, helping drive each other to the top of the charts.

"It's giving us that little competition that makes us want to go further and excel further than we are right now," said 22-year-old Carlos Pena Jr. of Big Time Rush.

"It's cool to see more boy bands, but us, Mindless Behavior, we want to show the fans what we got," said Mindless Behavior's Prodigy, who is 15. Roc Royal and Princeton — both 14 — and Ray Ray, 15, round out the group.

Big Time Rush recently had its TV film, Big Time Movie, reach over 13.1 million total viewers when it debuted on Nickelodeon two weeks ago. They also released an EP of the same name to accompany the film, which features cover versions of classic Beatles songs.

'How I felt in the moment'

Fresh off a double win at the Grammy Awards, Toronto-raised R&B singer Melanie Fiona is pouring her heart out on a sophomore album that she says will have some people regretting their actions when they hear the lovelorn lyrics.

"Oh yes, oh yes, there are going to be a few people on this album that are going to be regretting," Fiona, 28, said with a hearty laugh in a recent telephone interview from New York, where she now lives.

"Hopefully I'm not one of them, because you know, situations change, your perspectives change, and sometimes what's captured in a moment isn't necessarily how you feel for a lifetime.

"But hey, it's how I felt in the moment."

The MF Life, out this week, details the triumphs and frus-

Melanie Fiona plans to travel to Ottawa next month for the Juno Awards, in which she's a contender for best R&B/Soul recording of the year for Gone And Never Coming Back. HANDOUT trations the singer's had since her much-heralded debut album, 2009's The Bridge, stormed the charts with hits including the Grammy-nominated It Kills Me as well as Give It to Me Right.

Through infectious beats and stirring soulful vocals, Fiona reveals her relationship trials — from getting a second chance at love (the bass-booming This Time, feat. J-Cole), to being wronged by a philanderer (the ballad 4 AM), to being dumped (the powerful Wrong Side Of A Love Song).

"I definitely put a lot into this album," said Fiona, who recently won two Grammys for her collaboration with Cee-Lo Green on Fool For You.

"I wanted to share my passion and my experience, from what I've been through and what I've learned and how I feel right now. I wanted to put that into this album and I wanted people to feel that and live through that with me, and recognize that they're not alone, really, because that's what it's about.

"I know that we all go through the same things."

But the album isn't all about wounded hearts.

The electric Watch Me Work, for instance, preaches self-respect, while L.O.V.E., featuring John Legend, encourages love for humanity. Can't Say features a ukulele as well as a pop-reggae sound that's a nod to her West Indian heritage.

Fans may notice a playful time theme in some of the titles: 4 AM and 6 AM, which features T-Pain, are a nod to his 5 O'Clock tune and Eminem's 3 a.m., said Fiona.

The album, like her life, has a lot of balance, she noted.

"The MF life these days is so magnificent, fantastic, I would just stay up here forever!" gushed Fiona.

A universal question: Is it Friday yet?

Country music album hitting home with Canadians. Gord Bamford's feel-good anthem hitting stride

JESSICA SMITH

Whether you're touring country musician Gord Bamford or an office-tower type, you probably know the feeling: you're working so dang hard you're not even sure if it's Friday yet.

The title track of Canadian country singer Bamford's latest album, Is It Friday Yet? has hit home with all kinds of Canadians, he said Tuesday while preparing for a small private show in Ottawa.

"I'm definitely going to be getting that question the rest of my life," he said.

"It doesn't matter if you're in an office tower in Toronto or Ottawa or a tractor in some rural community, everybody can't wait for the weekend."

When he's not on tour, Bamford is waiting for the weekend so he can spend time with his three kids, he said. Bamford grew up with country music in Lacombe, Alta.

Gord Bamford stands behind the bar at The Crazy Horse in Ottawa. He sings about waiting for an "ice-cold beer" in his song Is It Friday Yet? But Bamford said his drink of choice is vodka. JESSICA SMITH / METRO

He got a start by winning the Nornet Radio Network's Search for the Stars, a much lower-profile competition than the reality TV competitions of today, he said.

"They're definitely creating a lot of stars out of reality television these days," he said.

"Some people are getting an opportunity they never would I guess if they were doing it the hard way, coming up through the trenches."

Despite his radio competition win, Bamford says he worked hard playing shows at small bars on his way up, something that shows in the subject matter and success of

scene@metronews.ca

I've been following the progress of Burlington, Ontario's Walk Off the Earth ever since they posted their five people/one guitar performance of Gotye's Somebody That I Used to Know back in January. As I write this, the video has been viewed 74,423,421 times. That's about one-tenth the number of people who have seen Justin Bieber's Baby, but it's still a magnificent achievement, especially for an indie band.

If you've watched any music video on YouTube, you'll have seen the ads that come with each one. YouTube is the world's largest streamer of music and these ads have allowed it to monetize what many once believed was un-monetizable.

I was curious about what this means in financial terms to artists like Walk

Off the Earth, so I talked to some people in the industry who know how such things work. Let's try to estimate things, shall we? YouTube's payment rate is approximately $2.50 CPM, which means for every one thousand views of a video, it pays out $2.50 US. YouTube keeps 50 per cent of all revenues. Fifteen per cent goes to the rights holder of the song (the publisher/copyright holder) while the remaining amount — 35 per cent — goes to the performer. Now let's do the math. First, divide 74.5 million views by 1,000 to get the CPM number. Multiply that number (74,500) by $2.50 and you have total gross advertising revenues of $186,250. Of that, YouTube keeps half, which is $93,125. The rest is divided between the publisher (15 per cent of $186,250 or about $28,000; Gotye gets a piece of this) and the band (35 per cent of $186,250 or a shade over $65,000). Finally, divide that amount amongst the five members of the band and you have earnings of $13,000 each.

Not bad when you consider that this is the product of 14 hours work in front of a video camera but a little sobering when you consider how difficult it is to get that many people to watch a single video.

10 questions for Slash

The former Guns 'N Roses man speaks out. Talks about his new album, his love of Canadians and how his pet snake likes music

scene@metronews.ca

For a Guns 'N Roses survivor — and someone who's been saved by defibrillator paddles three times — Slash looks awfully healthy sitting in his Toronto hotel suite on the eve of Canadian Music Week (CMW).

You must like coming up for this event.
I love coming up here — twice in three years — but the timing for CMW is just something that sorta happens.

This album is billed as Slash featuring Myles Kennedy and the Conspirators. Why?
The first solo record I did was called Slash but when we took the band on the road, I called it Slash featuring Myles Kennedy (Slash's singer).

That became a bigger event than I expected. So when I thought about doing another record with Brent (Fitz, drummer) and Todd (Kearns, bassist, ex of Age of Electric), I needed to give some kind of credit to the guys who were the backbone.

You seem to have a thing for hiring Canadians for your band.
Brent is from Ottawa, or Toronto?

He's gonna kill me. And Todd is from Vancouver. He's a great singer, too.

Tell me about Ian Thornley.
Ian has a great voice and he did an audition for Velvet Revolver. The catch was he wanted to play guitar.

You recently appeared on the U.K. edition of Top Gear. How was that?
It was OK although I couldn't get the hang of the left-hand stick in the rain. The Stig couldn't understand why I had issues.

How did the commercials for the Los Angeles Zoo with Betty White come about?
Me and Betty are on the board for the zoo. There's a new reptile exhibit and I'm a big reptile guy. We just thought it would be fun.

You got to play at Muhammed Ali's 70th birthday celebration.
That was a tremendous honour. He's one of my idols.

You've done some recording with Steve Adler (GNR drummer in the Appetite for Destruction era).
I got him to play on my record and I promised that if he'd stay clean, I'd play on his.

Word is that your snake, Sam, really likes the new album, Apocalyptic Love (due May 22).
The first time through he just lay there. The second time he was all over the cage. So I figure he either digs it or wants to move.

The Rock and Roll Hall of Fame Induction ceremony: what's going to happen?
I don't know. I'm just going to show up.

Smokey Robinson's favourite band

Music. Motown legend 'enamoured with' Australian vocal group Human Nature

An Australian pop quartet's music really got a hold of Smokey Robinson.

Motown Records' signature vocalist loved Human Nature's take on the legendary label's standards so much that he signed on as the group's official presenter and helped facilitate a lengthy run for it in Las Vegas.

Now, the group is heading out for its first U.S. tour, which starts Saturday in — where else — Detroit.

Quote

"They came to the studio one night in Los Angeles ... and sang for me a cappella with no music — just them singing — and blew me away."

Smokey Robinson

Human Nature (brothers Andrew and Mike Tierney and fellow high school classmates Phil Burton and Toby Allen) have released nine albums, five of which went to No. 1 in their native country.

They've opened for Celine Dion and Michael Jackson in Europe and Australia and performed the national anthem at the Summer Olympic Games in their home city of Sydney in 2000.

But it was their 2005 Motown tribute, Reach Out, that attracted Robinson's attention.

"They came to the studio one night in Los Angeles ... and sang for me a cappella with no music — just them singing — and blew me away, man. Just awesome," the Rock and Roll Hall of Famer told The Associated Press in a phone interview. "I am so enamoured with them."

The group's 10-city tour will take them through Washington, New York, Chicago and Boston.

The music of Motown enjoyed its heyday nearly a half-century ago but has been embraced by generations of listeners drawn to its timelessness.

So, what could these guys possibly bring to the music that hasn't been done better by Robinson, Marvin Gaye, Stevie Wonder and company?

"They have put their own touch on (the songs)," Robinson said. "They sing the Motown music, but they do it like Human Nature does it."

For their part, Human Nature simply loves singing the songs.

"Why should people listen to four white Australians sing these songs when they're ubiquitous on radio and TV?" Andrew Tierney said. "It just shows that this music is written for everybody and that it has reached to every corner of the globe, including Australia. And it's still influencing people, just as it touched us."

Madge to push for gay rights in Russia

Madonna is set to return to Russia on her tour this summer, and the planned visit is already causing controversy as the pop icon says she plans to defy a new statute in St. Petersburg that outlaws promoting homosexuality.

"I will come to St. Petersburg to speak up for the gay community and to give strength and inspiration to anyone who is or feels oppressed. I'm a freedom fighter," Madonna said in an email, according to Bloomberg.

"I don't run away from adversity. I will speak during my show about this ridiculous atrocity."

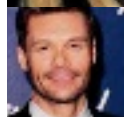

Madonna is scheduled to perform in Moscow on August 7 and St. Petersburg on August 9.

Rihanna was spotted making a late-night visit to the home of Ashton Kutcher this week, according to TMZ, which posted photos of the singer's black SUV pulling up to the Two and a Half Men star's home.

Rihanna reportedly arrived around midnight — her full security team — and stayed until about 4 a.m.

Adding intrigue to the story is the fact that TMZ removed the item from its site shortly after posting it.

Kelly and Valderrama a hot new item?

Minka Kelly and Wilmer Valderrama have been turning heads with their public displays of affection, according to Us Weekly.

The rumoured couple popped up at Greystone Manor Supperclub in West Hollywood, where "they were kissing and grinding," a source says.

"They were very flirty and dancing close. They even left with each other."

They were also spotted at Disneyland last month and having dinner earlier this month.

So how serious are things getting between Valderrama and Kelly, who split with Yankees star Derek Jeter last year?

"I wouldn't say they're boyfriend and girlfriend," a source says. "But he's started ignoring calls from some of his other girls."

Kardashian opens up about the divorce

THE WORD
Dorothy Robinson

Kim Kardashian GETTY IMAGES

Kim Kardashian opened up to Jay Leno about her quickie marriage to Kris Humphries on Wednesday night. It was a lot of what you'd expect: It was nobody's fault, "she still believes in love," blah, blah, blah.

Basically, Kardashian did a great job of making a divorce sound as un-juicy as possible (which is very hard to do).

"I'm a girl who really believes in love, I'm in love with love and I thought this was it for me," she told Leno, never referring to Humphries by name, only as "someone else."

The 31-year-old said that when she "realized [the marriage] wasn't [what] I thought," she "tried to be really respectful of everyone involved."

"I've heard stories of people who were married for 10 years and they knew it wasn't right, but they wanted to stick it out and had kids," she said.

"I want that forever. I believed in love, I still do. But to be fair to everyone, I knew I had to end it and I'm OK with that decision."

I'm glad she still believes in love. And I rest easy at night knowing she probably also believes in the kind of love that she can make the most money off of.

Rimes may join The X Factor judges

Eddie Cibrian confirms that wife LeAnn Rimes has been in talks about joining the judge's table on The X Factor, according to Extra.

"They've been talking. I have no idea what's going on with that. I think they've been talking to a lot of people," Cibrian says.

"I think she would be unbelievable on a show like that. As a mentor, which is key for that show, The X Factor, I think she has a lot of great input and actually could help these people out. Plus, she can sing."

Seyfried has puppy love

Rumoured couple Amanda Seyfried and Josh Hartnett seem to be enjoying the domestic side of life together.

Last week, the pair were spotted grocery shopping in L.A., and this week they hit the beach for a play-date for their dogs, according to People magazine.

While her feelings for Hartnett are unconfirmed, Seyfried has made it clear how she feels about her pooch.

"I'm obsessed with my dog," she previously told the magazine. "He's become my son and my light source and kind of a saviour to a lot of people, a lot of my friends."

Liquid Assets

A Canadian Mad Men connection

LIQUID ASSETS
Peter Rockwell
@therealwineguy
peterrockwell@eastlink.ca

Even with the fear of creating a chink in my hipster armour, I have to confess that until recently I'd never seen an episode of Mad Men.

Sure, I've admired Christina Hendricks' talents and had dug out my skinny '80s ties from the back of my closet so I could channel my inner Don Draper, but when it came to watching the soap opera at Sterling Cooper, I just never got around to it.

Now that I'm caught up, I regret not realizing the amazing connection the series has with liquor — especially when it comes to Draper's love for our nation's namesake spirit Canadian Club Whisky (750 ml, $22.99 - $26.98).

First distilled in 1858 by Hiram Walker, C. C.'s aged blend of rye, corn, rye malt and barley malt was a prohibition favourite (a shout out to you Boardwalk Empire fans) that's kept its seductive, mixable caché well past the Mad Men era all the way to today.

Soft, lightly malted and eminently mixable (try using it as the foundation for your next Bloody Caesar), Canadian Club just happens to be the base of an Old Fashioned — Draper's favourite cocktail. PRICES REFLECT THE RANGE ACROSS THE COUNTRY. Dine just like TV ad exec Don Draper

Avocado and Crab Canapes. The popular show returns on Sunday, so get in the mood with eats from Don Draper's era

Does Don Draper do finger food? Judging by the first four seasons of TV's popular Mad Men show it doesn't seem likely unless we're talking about a belt of bourbon with a couple of smoking hot Lucky Strikes on the side.

But since that hardly sounds appetizing, we've come up with something a little tastier to greet the return of Mad Men on AMC on March 25.

Try this delicious avocado and crab mini sandwich if you're looking to get in the Mad Men mood. Avocado — both as a food and colour — was a big hit in the 1960s kitchen. This combo brings in a hint of California, the "Tomorrowland" state where Draper goes to overcome his past.

What will happen this season? Who knows? The show creators are known for being stingy with spoilers. But it seems a safe bet these recipes will make for a perfectly swell party.

1. Heat the oven to 200 C (400 F).

2. Brush each slice of baguette on both sides with some of melted butter. Arrange bread on a rimmed baking sheet, then season lightly with salt and pepper.

3. Bake the bread for 6 to 7 minutes or until it is toasted and lightly golden.

4. In a small bowl, whisk together the lemon juice, Dijon mustard, hot sauce and olive oil. Gently stir in chopped pimento, avocado cubes and crab meat.

5. Arrange baguette slices on a serving platter. Top each with some of the avocado and crab salad.

NHL waiting on players' union to begin labour talks: Bettman

NHL. 'We've been ready to go for months', says commish on collective bargaining talks

Money

57%

Revenue sharing is expected to play a large role in the talks, with NHL owners wanting to cut the players' share of league revenues from 57 per cent.

NHL Commissioner Gary Bettman said Thursday he's ready to meet with the players union to negotiate a new contract, but it's up to the union to decide when that might happen.

Bettman said the NHL Players' Association hasn't yet indicated that it's ready.

"That's something that we're relying on the union for right now," Bettman said of the timing on talks. "There's a new executive director and he's getting up to speed, meeting with his constituents and when the union's ready, then we'll start."

Donald Fehr, who previously led the union for Major League Baseball players, became executive director of the NHLPA in December 2010.

Union spokesman Jonathan Weatherdon said in an emailed statement that the union was meeting with players to prepare for negotiations.

"At our request, the NHL recently supplied the NHLPA with some initial financial information that we are currently reviewing," Weatherdon said. "While we do not have a set date for formal negotiations to begin, we expect negotiations will begin when we have players available to participate in bargaining sessions."

The Stanley Cup finals are scheduled to end in June.

Bettman declined to say what the league is looking for in renewing the seven-year deal set to expire Sept. 15.

"I don't discuss what we're looking for in collective bargaining publicly," he said. "That's best done across the table with the principals."

Team owners are expected to meet in Las Vegas when the NHL Awards are held.

Bettman met with team presidents at the Encore Las Vegas hotel-casino, the site of the awards last June. Bettman said they discussed marketing initiatives, TV contracts and general business.

Bounties: League may punish players

NFL. Commissioner reviewing players' bounty case with NFLPA and weighs taking action on Saints involved in the scheme

The New Orleans Saints' crush-for-cash bounty system already cost them head coach Sean Payton for all of next season and general manager Mickey Loomis for half of it, plus two second-round draft picks and a $500,000 fine.

Former Saints defensive co-ordinator Gregg Williams, who oversaw and contributed money to the illegal fund, was suspended indefinitely.

Unforgiving and unprecedented penalties Wednesday from an NFL determined to rid its sport of hits that aim to knock opponents out of a game.

Now Commissioner Roger Goodell will turn his attention to possible punishments for two dozen or so defensive players the league's investigation found were involved in the extra payouts that he called "particularly unusual and egregious" and "totally unacceptable."

"We are all accountable and responsible for player health and safety and the integrity of the game. We will not tolerate conduct or a culture that undermines those priorities," said Goodell, whose league faces more than 20 concussion-related lawsuits brought by hundreds of former players. "No one is above the game or the rules that govern it."

The league is reviewing the case with the NFL Players Association.

"While I will not address player conduct at this time, I am profoundly troubled by the fact that players — including leaders among the defensive players — embraced this program so enthusiastically and participated with what appears to have been a deliberate lack of concern for the well-being of their fellow players," Goodell said.

Targeted players included quarterbacks Aaron Rodgers, Cam Newton, Brett Favre and Kurt Warner. "Knockouts" were worth $1,500 and "cart-offs" $1,000, with payments doubled or tripled for the playoffs.

THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

What now?

- Decision. The Saints now must decide who will coach the team in Payton's place and who will make roster moves while Loomis is out.
- Anonymous source. A person familiar with the situation says there are three strong candidates on the Saints staff to step in as interim coach: defensive coordinator Steve Spagnuolo, offensive coordinator Pete Carmichael Jr. and offensive line coach Aaron Kromery.

- Husband. Happy Birthday Husband! I'm so proud of all you've accomplished this past year! I am so excited for what your future holds and I am so lucky to be spending it by your side. You're my everything.<3 From Your Panda Bear
- Sexy Greg. Is it love? Infatuation? All I know is the warm weather is coming and so are the cut off shorts , wool socks and red work boots ... When you walk by I cannot get enough of your crazy calfs ... And your cinnamon breath . oh how I long to be the honey to your peanut butter sandwich ... Make a noise like a duck ! Scooter
- My Penguin. You are my whole world. From the moment I wake until the moment I fall asleep, you are on my mind and in my thoughts. I never thought it was possible to love this much or feel something this big. I have made my share of mistakes with you but, loving you will never be one of them. I will always be there to protect you and make you feel safe. My only wish is to spend the rest of my life finding new ways to make you happy. From Big Love

Horoscope

♈ Aries | March 21 - April 20. As retrograde Mercury slips out of your sign, you won't be quite so sure about your opinions as you usually are — and that's good.
♉ Taurus | April 21 - May 21. Make this an ideas day, a day when you make an effort to think outside the box.
♊ Gemini | May 22 - June 20. There's no point in being anxious. Look at your situation calmly because only when you do that are you going to find the answers.
♊ Cancer | June 21 - July 22. You may not be able to explain why you don't trust someone who seems honest, but you know better than to ignore your instincts.

♌ Leo | July 23 - Aug. 22. Start thinking seriously about what you can and can't afford and how you're going to pay what you owe.
♍ Virgo | Aug. 23 - Sept. 22. If you need to put a relationship on a firmer footing, the return of Mercury to your opposite sign today will help you.
♎ Libra | Sept. 23 - Oct. 22. Don't be slow to junk old routines if it becomes obvious that they are no longer up to the task of getting you from where you are now to where you want to be tomorrow.
♏ Scorpio | Oct. 23 - Nov. 21. You need to think more seriously about a creative or artistic venture you've just been toying with.

♐ Sagittarius | Nov. 22 - Dec. 21. Today's cosmic influences will give you the opportunity to smooth things out at home.
♑ Capricorn | Dec. 22 - Jan. 20. Be careful what you say today because you could easily let something slip that would have been better to keep to yourself.
♒ Aquarius | Jan. 21 - Feb. 18. Are you following a certain course of action because that is what you really want to do or because you think it is expected of you?
♓ Pisces | Feb. 19 - March 20. You won't have just one good idea today, you'll have dozens. Write them down and decide what ones to pursue later. SALLY BROMPTON
